Dynaudio Refocuses Global Market Activities

Skanderborg, Denmark – July 7th, 2026

Dynaudio has made the decision to focus its future market development efforts on Europe and Asia as part of its long-term business strategy.

As a result, the company is announcing that it will cease operations of its commercial activities in North America, and permanently shut down its U.S. subsidiary in the fall of 2026.

While the company has achieved sales growth in North America in recent years, ongoing economic challenges and market uncertainty have led Dynaudio to prioritize investments and resources in markets that offer the strongest strategic opportunities for future development.

Dynaudio is committed to ensuring a smooth transition for customers and business partners. A dedicated plan to maintain continuity of product support and customer service in the region will be implemented and communicated shortly.

The company sincerely thanks its North American customers, partners and employees for their support and contribution over the years.
